MRSA

It's just not in hospitals anymore

MRSA is a type of staph infection that is resistant to certain types of antibiotics. Staph or MRSA infections in the community are usually skin infections, that look like spider bites, pimples or boils, and occur in otherwise healthy people.

If you think you have MRSA, see your doctor or healthcare provider immediately.

Follow these 4 steps to prevent the spread of MRSA

1 Wash your hands with soap and warm water or use an alcohol-based hand sanitizer.

2 Keep cuts and scrapes clean and covered with a bandage until healed.

3 Avoid contact with other people's wounds or bandages.

4 Avoid sharing personal items such as towels or razors.
