Dallas ISD has had a suicide prevention policy since the mid-1990s, which remains a primary mandate of the Department of Psychological and Social Services.

Dallas ISD’s crisis response guide has been praised by the Texas Suicide Prevention Council.

TRUST the systems in place and follow protocol for effective crisis management:

- Monitor need for control & safety
- Avoid personal involvement in crisis efforts
- Consult with authorities who are mandated to provide help
How Do We Respond?

Recognize
- Suicide is a Public Health Problem
- Signs & Risk Factors

Respond
- Document Risk Assessment
- Notify Parents, Principal & PSS

Refer
- Refer to Hospital if Risk is High
- Complete YFC or other Counseling Agency Referral

What To Look For

- Statements such as “I don’t want to be here anymore,” “you’ll be sorry” or “I want to end it all.”
- Sudden change in mood and affect (e.g., happy to sad or irritable; friendly to withdrawn)
- Disrupted sleep or persistent complaints about not being able to get out of bed in the morning
- Suddenly becoming very cheerful and happy after a bout of depression
- Loss of interest in social activities, sports or hobbies
- Drug and/or alcohol use
- Feelings of sadness or hopelessness; excessive emotionality
- Few friends and/or limited social support or parental supervision
- Cutting/self-mutilation or other self-harming behaviors
- Declining grades and/or academic motivation
- Increasing disciplinary problems
- Involvement in bullying (either as victim or aggressor)
- Feelings of overwhelm and stress without positive coping skills
Response for Suicidal Threat

Teacher hears student threaten suicide or speak of suicidal thoughts

Teacher IMMEDIATELY takes student to counselor

Counselor or PSS follows established Suicide Risk Assessment protocol

If referred to hospital, counselor or PSS confirms admittance next day

Counselor or PSS emails update to principal to inform school staff on a need to know basis
Response for Student Return

A student who has been absent for 3+ days returns to class

Teacher sends student IMMEDIATELY to counselor or nurse to check-in

Counselor or nurse checks in with attendance office or parent to confirm reason for absence

Counselor or nurse provides student with a pass back to class

Counselor or nurse emails update to principal and school staff on a need to know basis
What Can Teachers Do To Help?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>SHOW CONCERN</th>
<th>AVOID COUNSEL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Remain calm and assume control in a soothing manner</td>
<td>Avoid asking the student for information regarding stressors, intent, plan or previous suicidal history</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Move the student to a quiet and secure place away from other students and staff</td>
<td>Limit engagement with concerned peers in conversation or answer related questions</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Listen empathetically to the student and validate his/her feelings and experiences</td>
<td>Keep away from lessons on suicide prevention without counselor consultation or support</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Escort the student to a counselor (or nurse if medical attention is needed), enlisting the help of a colleague to cover your class</td>
<td>Do not allow the student to stay in class for any length of time after a disclosure of suicidal thinking or attempt</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Upon return, tell the student you are glad he/she is back and ensure he/she has met with a counselor prior to attending class</td>
<td>Do not contact the parents to notify them of the student’s disclosure or emotional state or respond to parent concerns after the incident—refer to counselor</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Monitor mood and affect, and discreetly encourage the student to use his/her coping skills if distressed</td>
<td>Upon return, avoid asking the student details about hospitalization or allow him/her to engage others in conversation about hospitalization for attention</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Allow the student to visit the counselor or nurse if he/she requests or you feel a check-in is needed</td>
<td>Do not provide crisis support in class, electronically or over the telephone</td>
</tr>

Teacher Support for Returning Students

- Administrators will provide direction to staff on modifications to returning students’ grading and workload

- Sensitivity to workload stress and overwhelm is requested, and teacher support is appreciated
  - E.g., extensions, averaging assignments, decreased assignment length, extra 1-on-1 instruction
  - Be sure to receive PRINCIPAL APPROVAL prior to making any accommodations

- If you have any questions about assignments and grading for a student with excessive absences, please contact an administrator and refer this student to a counselor for follow-up
After School Support

- If a student involved in after school activities discloses suicidal intentions and if a school counselor is not available:
  - Contact Dallas ISD dispatch @ 214-932-5627

- If a student involved in after school activities attempts suicide and if the school nurse is not available:
  - Call 911 for an ambulance

- Afterwards, inform your principal, counselors, and nurse of the incident and your response for next day follow-up
Communicating With Students

- It is NOT advised for teachers to exchange cell phone numbers with students
  - Increases liability & leads to boundary confusion for students

- District policy states that:
  - Only certified, licensed or principal-designated employees are authorized to communicate with students through electronic media (including email, TEXTING and social networking) — and only “about matters within the scope of the employee’s professional responsibilities.”
  - Employees shall NOT communicate directly with any student between 9 p.m. & 7 a.m.

- Even when you’re feeling better, triggers (sounds, images, situations) can lead to resurfacing of emotional and physical symptoms
Reflections on Trauma & Trust

- Trust is being able to rely on the integrity, ability, and strength of someone or something
  - Trauma often disrupts trust, and this can last a long time without intervention

- You can help yourself heal by:
  - Avoiding obsessive thinking about the disastrous event
  - Seeking comfort and support—talk through your experience and feelings
  - Strengthening your coping skills
  - Challenging your sense of helplessness by getting informed and involved
  - Making stress reduction a priority
Where Can Staff Go For Help?

- The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a confidential resource that helps resolve personal problems before they harm your health, relationships with others or job performance.
- 6 FREE Individual and/or family counseling sessions are available each academic year.
- Your EAP is completely private and available 24 hours / 365 days a year.
